

Delivery of goods and provision of services

Apr 14, 2020

Note: This document covers only the section (subdomain) of the web page <https://investment.skillsplace.net/>

Goods delivery

Skillsplace fundraising policy does not provide for any sale or delivery of goods to addresses.

Provision of services

Skillsplace provide to donors a “conditional services” of accumulation, storage and following spending (according to purpose) of donations. Donations are legally qualify as gifts. Making donations, no one can receive in return company shares, corporate rights, investor status, cashback, bonuses and so on. Skillsplace, after receiving donations, does not have any further obligations to donors. The only thing the company undertakes to do is spend the accumulated funds according to their intended purpose - this procedure can only be considered as a self-made obligation. Formally, after receiving donations, the company does not undertake to provide anyone with any specific and especially paid services.

Skillsplace cannot issue an official donation receipt for services.

Gifts status

In response to donations, Skillsplace gives to donors the gifts.

This is a form of gratitude to the company to its donors for their contribution to the fundraising campaign for the needs of the company. Such gratitude can only be considered as gifts.

Gifts are not goods and services and are not and cannot be considered as such.

Please note that according to the national legislation of some countries, gifts may be taxed.

Unfortunately, we cannot calculate the value of our gifts in tangible equivalent, since most of them are temporary rights to use the paid services of our Skillsplace website. When sending gifts to our donors, we do not envisage receiving back any funds or return services. Also, the fact of receiving gifts from Skillsplace does not cause donors any obligations to the company.

Gifts delivery

Delivery of gifts may be made by doing anything which the parties agree shall be treated as delivery or which has the effect of putting the goods in the possession of the donor or of any person authorized to hold them on his behalf. Delivery of goods may be actual, symbolic or constructive.

Delivery of the goods are concurrent conditions, that is to say, the company shall be ready and willing to give possession of the gift to the donor, and the donor shall be ready and willing for the possession of the gifts.

Apart from any express contract, the company is not bound to deliver the gifts until the donor applies for delivery. It is the duty of the donor to demand delivery. If he does not apply for delivery, the company has no cause of action against the donor. The parties may, however, agree otherwise.

Donor can apply for delivery in such ways:

- makes attachment of his email and postal address with the donation on payment page.
- sends a cover letter to the company email (ad789087@outlook.com) with the payment details of the donation and his postal address.

Gift Delivery Terms

Dates for the start of dispatch are indicated by

<https://investment.skillsplace.net/documentation> in the document "Description of goods and services" in section 4. Deadlines.

Unfortunately, Skillsplace cannot calculate the specific dates for the delivery of gifts to the donor's country of residence.

Gifts will be sent from Ukraine or China, and will be delivered from approximately 2 weeks to 60 days. However, national carriers of the sending and receiving countries may set different deadlines. The rules for the supply of goods are regulated exclusively by local laws of Ukraine, China and the country of residence of the donor.

The time period does not include the time when the parcel arrived at the regional post office and until the time when the donor physically did not receive it.

Skillsplace is not responsible for any delay in customs, including a delay in order to conduct an additional inspection of the parcel.

The company obligated the donor to warn her in advance of local customs restrictions on leather goods.

In the event of formal circumstances, which are described in detail in

<https://investment.skillsplace.net/documentation> in the document "Description of goods and services" in section 7. Force Majeure, the company disclaims any responsibility for the timing and delivery of a gift, until the specific disappearance of formative circumstances.

Links

This document is an integral part of documents from the "Documentation" section of this website, our Cookie policy, Privacy policy and Terms and Conditions, as well as principles of contract law and common law.

Regards A.Denys,
Skillsplace ©, 2020